Trained health and safety representative

Notes for health and safety representative

- 1 You may issue a hazard notice only if you are a trained health and safety representative under the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992. To be a trained health and safety representative you must have:
  - achieved a level of competence in health and safety practice specified by the Minister by notice in the Gazette; or
  - completed an appropriate course of training that has been approved under section 19G of the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992.
- 2 You may (but do not have to) notify a health and safety inspector that you have issued this notice. If you do, you should ensure you provide your name and contact details to the inspector.

Notes for employer

- 3 This hazard notice sets out a description of a hazard that a trained health and safety representative believes exists in your place of work.
- 4 There is no penalty attached to this notice, however, it may serve as a prior warning for the purposes of an infringement notice issued by an inspector under section 56B of the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992.
